Raytheon Remains Andover's Top Taxpayer

Raytheon Co. remained the town's top taxpayer this past year, contributing $1,157,448.60 to the treasury on its property valued at $17,537,100.

Raytheon has been the town's top taxpayer since its arrival in the community over 25 years ago, with the exception of a couple of years.

The company was replaced by Gillette when its new West Andover plant was under construction about a decade ago, but has maintained the top spot since.

Gillette remains in second place among the town's top ten taxpayers with a tax bill of $479,602.20 on its property in Lowell Junction valued at $7,266,700.

The West Andover Industrial Park is in third place on the list with its $6,607,200 holdings providing for $436,075.20 in tax revenue for Andover. The Ninety-Three Building Trust is the owner of the property.

Massachusetts Electric Co. holds down the fourth spot with $4,559,100 in personal property accounting for $300,900.60 in taxes and an additional $90,300 in real estate providing $5,959.80.

Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn Inc.

rounds out the first half of the list with a total tax bill of $213,100.80 on combined personal property and real estate of $3,228,800.

Cressey-Dockham, Lowell Junction wholesale food distributor, which completed an addition to its building last year, is in sixth place with a tax bill of $195,670.20 on property valued at $2,964,700.

Phillips Academy, with combined personal property and real estate valued at $2,727,600, paid Andover a tax bill of $180,021.60, placing the educational facility seventh on the list.

Polaroid, which has since sold its property to Digital, was on the top ten list in eighth place last fiscal year with an assessment of $172,675 on its unfinished building worth $2,616,300.

Shetland Properties owners of the former Shawhsheen Mills building and the former Raytheon plant, has property valued at $2,588,700 and a tax bill of $172,854.80.

Rounding out the top ten is the Bay State Gas Co., which has personal property valued at $2,249,700 and a tax bill of $148,480.20.

Resident Asks Planners If Condos Are Desirable

The Planning Board Tuesday night began discussing the first draft of a multi-family housing amendment to the zoning bylaw, but one resident at the meeting warned the planners that they may be working on a bylaw few townspeople want.

"I don't think you're addressing the key issues brought up at the (November special) town meeting," Rebecca Backman of Foster's Pond told the board. An Andover Street townhouse development proposed by former selectman Sidney P. White was defeated at that meeting.

"People want Andover to remain a small town — they don't want it to be Lexington," Backman said, referring to slides of Lexington townhouse developments that were shown at the special town meeting. "There is a definite recognition of the need for elderly housing in this town, but not for multi-family housing."

Planner Frank McBride reminded Backman that during the special meeting, the planning board pledged to return to the annual town meeting with a multi-family amendment for voters to consider, because the board opposed the bylaw proposed by White.

"We are not saying that we will jam (our bylaw) down the throats of town meeting," McBride said.

He added that the planning board will hold a series of public hearings on the proposed amendment before town meeting, to get public feedback on the proposal, beginning in late February or early March.

Director of Community Development and Planning Rhys Kear indicated that townspeople will be surveyed on their attitudes toward multi-family housing with a questionnaire that has been mailed to every household in town.

"It's very difficult to find out what the town wants," planner Jack Tomlinson told Backman. "You're here, but there should be a thousand others here. But there isn't — there's never anybody here."

Backman agreed that the survey and public meetings were "a first step," but she remained concerned that the planning board was spending too much time reviewing the first draft of the bylaw without knowing townspeople's attitudes toward

Seniors Group Increases Their Fees

The Council on Aging will help the town meet the challenge of living under Proposition 2½ by volunteering to charge a $5 fee for some courses offered at the senior center, the selectmen learned Monday night.

The selectmen approved the new fees and congratulated Thomas Powers, Council on Aging chairman, for helping to ease the budget squeeze that Community Services — the COA's parent department — and other town departments are trying to cope with.

"We are very pleased with the Council on Aging that you've come forth to help out," Selectman Norma Gammon told Powers.

Dorothy Winn of the Community Services' Division of Elder Services explained Tuesday that the council voted to charge the fee for those classes taught by paid instructors — approximately 40 percent of the classes. The increased revenues will enable Community Services to schedule additional classes to meet the growing demand among Andover's senior citizens.

"We sent out a survey with our January newsletter," Winn said, "and those who responded were very agreeable to the fee. People realize that they have to pay for these services, and that they would be paying a lot more for private classes. So they are willing to pay."

Winn noted that the new $5 fee for classes such as needle arts, line dancing, yoga and cake decorating amounts to a 50 cent charge for each class in the ten-week courses.

The majority of classes offered at the senior center will still be offered free of charge, she added, because they are taught by instructors who either volunteer their time, or are paid by sources other than Community Services.

Since the Senior Center was moved from the second floor to the first floor of the Essex Street Theatre Building in March, 1979, the demand for classes has been steadily increasing, Winn said.

Plaza Owners Get Sewer Permit

The owners of Shawsheen Plaza have the town's approval for their plan to build an on-site sewage pump to serve the new stores and twin cinema that will be added to the plaza next summer.

The Board of Health, director of health, director of Public Works, and the selectmen, in their role as sewer commissioners, have given plaza owner Gordon Bloom of Plaza Realty Trust the go-ahead to build the pump, which will collect sewerage from the entire plaza and discharge it into the existing sanitary sewer.

The new pump will be owned, operated and maintained solely by the plaza, Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark reported to the selectmen Monday night.

In addition to building the new pump, the plaza owner will be permitted to correct a problem within the existing sewer system and connection at the plaza.

Plans for improving and expanding the plaza's sewer system are consistent with the sewerage regulations adopted by the Board of Health, as well as the sewer administrative policy and comprehensive plan adopted by the sewer commissioners, Clark told the board.

He added that the work must be performed to the satisfaction of the division of Public Health and the director of Public Works.

Last month, Shawsheen area residents told the selectmen they are opposed to plans to add a 400-seat twin cinema and 10 to 14 stores to the plaza. Spokesman Joyce Rossitto of 363 North Main St. said the new businesses will create traffic and parking problems at the already busy shopping center.

However, the manager reported Monday night that opposition to the plaza addition has "quieted down" in recent weeks. "We are trying to respond to concerns about the (potential) traffic problems," he said, explaining that Police Chief James Johnson is awaiting the results of a traffic study he has requested from the state Department of Public Works.

The plaza owner maintains that plans to redesign the parking lot, and hire a police officer to direct traffic during busiest hours should prevent traffic problems.

Social Service Contracts Awarded

Dr. Mary Jane England, commissioner of the State Department of Social Services, has announced the awarding of three contracts to agencies in the Greater Lawrence area.

The Community Day Care of Lawrence, Inc., has received $215,100 for family day care in Lawrence, Andover, North Andover and Methuen; while the Women's Resource Center has received $52,500 to provide counseling and shelter for battered women in the Greater Lawrence, Lowell and Haverhill-Newburyport areas.

The Greater Lawrence Community Action Council will receive $60,500 to provide day care for school age children in Lawrence, Andover, North Andover and Methuen.

The Department of Social Services is a state agency which provides services such as foster care, day care, family support and counseling to children and families in the state. Service contract awards are based on proposals reviewed by area social workers, regional contract specialists and area boards of citizen volunteers.

The largest living flying bird is the South African condor, whose wingspread is almost 10 feet.

On Dean's List

Miss Dandra Rigazio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rigazio of Andover, has been named to the Dean's list for the fall semester with a grade of 4.0. Miss Rigazio is a third year student in the College of Pharmacy at the University of Rhode Island.

County Budget Increased

The Essex County Commissioners have completed their budget deliberations and will submit a budget to the legislature and the Essex County Advisory board asking for an assessment of $10,078,444.36 on the 34 cities and towns of the county. This represents an increase of $232,359.86 over the amount that will be assessed in the present fiscal year or a percentage increase of approximately 2.36%.

All counties are restricted to no more than a 4% increase under the provisions of Proposition Two and One-Half.

The principal area of increase in the proposed fiscal year 1981-82 budget, occurs in the contributory pension account, where an increase of $212,000.00 has been mandated by the Commonwealth's Division of Insurance.

Three Buyers For Bradlee School

There are three potential buyers interested in the Bradlee School in Ballardvale, which could be sold with the authorization of annual town meeting, the town manager told the selectmen Monday night.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark recommended that a committee made up of representatives of the Ballardvale Village Improvement Society and the Andover Historical Commission to review the three proposals for purchase of the school.

The committee would then make a recommendation to the selectmen, Clark said.

The manager indicated that town meeting could authorize the direct sale of the school building to a buyer, so that the town would not have to offer the school for bids.

Council on Aging Chairman Thomas Powers urged the board to take another look at renovating the school for elderly housing. "This is an ideal location for elderly housing, and I think the Housing Authority should take some interest in it," he said. "I think we're missing the boat on this."

Clark noted that Ballardvale residents are opposed to low-income housing in the school, and have said they would prefer to see single-family homes built on the site rather than any type of multi-family housing.

However, Chairman James

Abramson asked Clark to investigate the possibility of putting elderly housing into the school, as long as it would not hold up the process of selling the building, which has stood vacant for more than two decades.

Thanks!

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

The members of the Ballardvale Village Improvement Society would like to thank everyone who helped in any way to reestablish library service in this community.

In 1878, J. Putnam Bradlee of the Bradlee Mills, donated a library to the residents of this area. In 1913, the branch library was opened in the Community Building and continued until the closing of the building in February 1980.

At this time, a very concerned young mother, Sherron Heller, perturbed by the fact that her young children would no longer have access to nearby library privileges, contacted several residents of the area. Not only did this start the "ball rolling" toward the opening of the Ballardvale Reading Room, but also gave us a chance to reactivate the Ballardvale Village Improvement Society. This organization was started in 1916 after having been an auxiliary branch of the Andover Village Improvement Society.

It is impossible to thank everyone by name. There would be some serious omissions. However, our appreciation goes to Andover Board of Selectmen, Town Manager Jared Clark, director, Memorial Hall Library, Nancy Jacobson, library trustees, Friends of the Memorial Library, plus many library employees. The library custodians, we understand, were most willing helpers. Of course, we thank our own Ruth Sharpe who has worked many, many hours getting the Reading Room ready—and will continue to work

Lecture

The Boston Public Library will celebrate the 99th birthday of the great Irish literary figure, James Joyce, with an illustrated lecture by Henry Augustine Tate on Monday, Feb. 2, at 7:45 p.m. in the Rabb Lecture Hall, Boston Public Library, Copley Square. "James Joyce: A Portrait of the Artist on His 99th Birthday" is being presented in tribute to the author who changed the course of twentieth-century literature in the western world.

This particular date was selected because birthdays always had a special significance for Joyce. He published his first major work, Dubliners, a collection of short stories, on his birthday in 1912.

among her many friends.

Thanks also to Mr. Rino Faiconi who transported residents to the Andover library this past summer so that the children would have continued use of library facilities.

More thanks to Charles Cronin who spent much time and effort helping us to relocate.

And last but not least, our thanks to the voters of Andover who made it all possible. This has been a real community effort by friends and neighbors and we are very proud and happy.

Sincerely

Ballardvale Village Improvement Society

Democrats To Caucus

Registered Democrats in Andover will be holding a caucus on Saturday, Feb. 21, at 2 p.m. at the Andover High School (in the large group room) to elect delegates to a statewide issues convention.

The issues convention, which will be held in Springfield on April 11, will adopt a platform for the state Democratic Party.

Andover will be electing 13 delegates, equally divided between men and women, to send to the convention. The apportioned number of delegates has been allocated on the basis of a formula giving equal weight to the Democratic Party registration and the average vote for Democratic candidates in the last general elections for Governor and President.

Chairperson James Doherty of the Democratic Town Committee will call the caucus, open to all registered voters in Andover, but Democrats must be present at the caucus to be eligible to vote. There will be no absentee or proxy voting.

Candidates for delegate must also be present and give his or her written consent to be nominated at that convention, must be seconded by two persons present at the caucus. All ballots will be written and secret.

Each candidate will be allowed to make a two minute speech and to distribute on his/her behalf one sheet of paper listing qualifications and ideas.

Slate-making is allowed, but no special preference shall be given to slates. There is no quorum requirement for the caucus and no alternates shall be elected.

There will be no admission or expense charge at the caucus, although donations may be solicited.

The Guild of Professional Toastmasters holds an election every year to determine the most boring speaker.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

The Haven was able to obtain 45 tickets for the Feb. 18 performance of the Ice Follies and already 20 of them have been sold. If you want to go to this very special event, you had better hurry down to the senior center and get yours today. Cost for transportation and ticket is $10.

Struggling with your income tax? Free help is available for you at The Haven, but by appointment only. A trained tax specialist will be at the center on Mondays for the next several weeks to help. You should be sure to bring last year's tax forms as well as the new one. But first you must call for an appointment.

The Haven Singers stay busy. In addition to providing music at the Feb. 4 birthday party at the center, on the third Wednesday of each month they sing for the patients at Prescott House in North Andover, and the fourth Wednesday, at the Academy Manor. If you like to sing, the group would be happy to have you join them. Helen Robinson is their director.

Feb. 5 you will want to be at The Haven for a special exhibit of quilts and a demonstration of the art of quilting by Marilyn Pratt and her students. Time is 2 p.m.

It is not too late for you to purchase your tickets for the Valentine's Day noon dinner party Feb. 12 at The Haven. Entree will be chicken, and there will be entertainment as well as good food. Tickets cost $3.

There will be a special Greek Festival March 3 at the Averof Restaurant in Cambridge. Those attending will have a choice of chicken on a skewer or the traditional lamb shish kabob, but the highlight will be a demonstration of that middle-eastern art form—belly dancing. Cost for transportation, food and entertainment is only $11, so get to The Haven quickly and get your tickets.

Watch for the February newsletter from The Haven and the Department of Community Services Bulletin for details of courses to be offered this winter. Registration for senior citizens may be made by phone to The Haven except in courses where fees are involved. Registration for classes commences Feb. 11, with most courses starting the week of Feb. 25.

The next session of the mini-clinic will be at The Haven, Feb. 3. Call the Andover Department of Health for an appointment—475-7820.

East Junior High Happenings

By Jake Motte

Beginning in February, all eighth and ninth grade students will be programmed for their courses for next year. Eighth grade parents will be invited to participate in this activity and meet with the student and a guidance counselor to plan next year's program. This week, Steven Richardson, the assistant principal at the high school, will meet with the ninth grade students to discuss course selections for the high school.

The student council sponsored an ice skating party at recreation park Jan. 13. A large turnout enjoyed the evening which featured a bonfire and refreshments. It was such a great success, that another skating party is planned for the near future.

On Feb. 13, the day before February vacation begins, the Muppet movie will be shown to the student body. There will be no charge for this film.

The basketball season has been a busy one so far for both eighth and ninth grade cheerleading squads. The eighth graders number 11 and are ably captained by Darlene Cuddy and Betsy Murphy. With only three games left, two are with West and promise to be spirited to say the least.

There's no doubt that East's eighth grade basketball team will emerge victorious as they are cheered on by Sharon Flaherty, Michelle Kluck, Cathy Smith, Christine Jensen, Suzanne Curley, Mary Jane Dwyer, Patty Fitzgerald, Heather Kirkwood, and Diana Miller.

Ten very well-skilled ninth graders make up the freshman squad. Their schedule is a heavy one with 14 games, eight of which are away. Six games remain. Sue Serbagi, Liz Thomann, Lynne Pinkney, Mimi Himber, Jane Maldon, Marianne Nuzzo, Pam Clement, Leslie Andrews along with captains Beverly Poulin and Cheryl Scammell and Catherine Bainbridge as alternate intend to inspire the freshman basketball team to a winning

WESTern Roundup

By Kathy Mulvey

On Friday, Jan. 23, the freshmen from both of Andover's junior high schools attended a dance hosted by West. This event gave the students from both schools the opportunity to meet their counterparts from across town for they will be attending Andover High together for the next three years. All who participated enjoyed themselves in the exciting night.

The seventh grade and freshman class were entertained last Wednesday when two mimes presented an enjoyable performance. Their humorous skits showed the audience that neither p o p s nor words are necessary to convey a message.

The WJH girls' basketball team was defeated by a score of 33-19 in a game played last Tuesday against Chelmsford McCarthy. Lorna Turgiss put in six points for West to lead the offensive charge. The team turned in an impressive fourth quarter performance, gaining ground on its opponents.

The freshman basketball team challenged Austin Prep on Jan. 23. Billy Vickers placed 11 points on the scoreboard for West. The final buzzer left West with a crushing 49-26 victory.

On Tuesday, Jan. 20, the eighth grade boys' basketball team defeated Wilmington by a score of 48-34.

The life of each West Junior High student was brightened by the release of the American hostages from Iran last week. We thank all of the people involved in arranging their release for their efforts and share in the joy of the returnees to their families.

High School Students Tutor Their Peers

More than 50 Andover High pupils have been tutoring their peers in English, math, science and history, as part of the school's Peer Counseling Project.

The ongoing tutor program is supervised by Miriam Weisberg, director of outreach services, assisted by two peer counselors, Kevin Hoffman and Eileen Powers.

Students in need of extra help are either referred to the program by their teachers, or they seek the assistance themselves. Anyone interested in more information about the tutoring program, contact Weisberg at the Peer Counseling Center, 470-1700, extension 319.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Planned

The Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council, Inc., has announced the Girl Scouts from Andover began taking orders for their 1981 Cookie sale on Jan. 24. The Girl Scouts will continue taking door-to-door orders until Feb. 9. Cookies ordered now will be delivered in March.

Proceeds from the annual sale are used by the Council to fund activities such as summer camp, trips and service projects for approximately 10,000 girls from North-eastern Massachusetts. Since 1933, it has been the main fund-raiser for the Girl Scouts, one of America's finest youth groups.

For those not given the chance to order cookies, contact the Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council office in Danvers or the service center in Chelmsford, to be put in touch with the cookie sale coordinator.

CUOMO'S

The end of great confusion. The beginning of great music.

Up until now, to get great component high fidelity it wasn't enough to know and love music. You had to know and love hi-fi. You had to know the language, a multitude of brand names, and what goes with what.

You now only have to know one thing besides music: Pioneer Syscom. Poof, you're an expert.

Syscom is a complete high fidelity component system made by the leading maker of high fidelity components in America. Pioneer. It's for people who want serious hi-fi without getting involved in the complexities of it.

Pioneer Syscom includes everything you need to get the most out of your music. Amplifier, tuner (or receiver), turntable, tape deck, speakers. It even comes with its own specially designed cabinet. So Syscom looks every bit as good as it sounds.

Each component was created specifically for Syscom. And since the entire system was both built and matched by Pioneer engineers, you can't make a mistake.

There are seven different Pioneer Syscom groups. One is designed for your room, your music, your budget.

Pioneer Syscom. For people who know everything about music. And almost nothing about hi-fi. We bring it back alive.

Youngsters To Learn About Handicaps

A unique pilot project to help youngsters understand the handicaps of others, will begin at Bancroft School next month.

The program, to be taught by volunteers and teachers to fourth graders, will cover four topics in eight sessions: Blindness on Feb. 11 and 25; Deafness on March 11 and 25; Physical Limitations on April 8 and 29 and Mental Retardation on May 13 and 27.

It was originally designed at the Meeting Street School in Providence, R.I., and then adapted for the Newton Public Schools. The Andover Parents Advisory Council for Chapter 766 children observed the program in Newton, and worked with the Andover administrators and teachers to put together the pilot here.

During the two afternoons on a topic, the youngsters will see movies, read books, participate in small discussion groups and experience first hand the equipment and aids used for each handicap. At the end of a unit, a speaker who actually has that handicap will talk about it with them.

Dave Nichols, adaptive physical education teacher in the elementary schools, will start off the Blindness unit at 1 p.m. Feb. 11, with a large group discussion, then a "grab bag" which will challenge the youngsters to identify an object while blindfolded, and a "blind" walk and discussion.

A blind teacher with her seeing eye dog will appear at 1 p.m. on Feb. 25, and the children will also try a cane walk, aids and Braille.

Parents from other schools who may be interested in observing the pilot project,

Swim Party, Pizza Are Features

The cub scouts of Pack 100 began the month with an evening of swimming at the Greater Lawrence Vocational School, followed by a pizza party.

Later in the month the scouts held their pack meeting and were entertained by the amazing magic tricks of den 1. Achievement awards were presented at that time to the following scouts: Wolf badges to Frederick Hohn, Jonathan Lewis and Christopher Tomkinson; Bear badge and gold arrow to Robert Wood; Gold arrow and two silver arrows to David Carnes; Aquanaut badges to David Sampson, Brooks Cutter, Brian Worcester, David Sharrow, Randy Clarke, and Robert Devaney.

The scouts were given news of individual den activities by Adam Guild, Christopher Tomkinson, Steven Lambright, Thomas DeBenedictis, Sean Cassidy, and Randy Clarke.

The scouts are planning two big events for February, the annual blue and gold banquet, and the pinewood derby.

Appointed Head Gym Coach At Springfield

17 THE TOWNSMAN, JANUARY 29, 1981

Bob Cargill

Robert W. Cargill, 1963 graduate of Andover High School and a member of the Sports Hall of Fame at the school, will become head coach of gymnastics at Springfield College at the end of the 1980-81 season.

Cargill has been assistant men's gymnastics coach at the college since 1972 and is a former national coach of the year.

A former Springfield college gymnastics team captain, Cargill was two-time eastern champion as an Andover High gymnast.

He will succeed Frank Wolcott at Springfield who is retiring after 26 years. Wolcott will continue to serve the sport nationally in an advisory capacity.

"We're extremely pleased with Bob Cargill's appointment," Dr. Edward S. Steitz, college president said. "He has been an integral part of our men's gymnastic program for the past eight years and we are confident that he will maintain the same high level of excellence enjoyed."

Getting Dressed: The Snowsuit Dilemma

Things are a lot more complicated in the winter. Take for example the trials that Scott Ginsberg goes through just to go outside. Snowsuits start at the bottom with boots poking through; they wind their way up with arms trying to find their proper places; and zippers have to zip in all the right places. All this and only four years old! Scott attends the Community Cooperative Nursery School and resides at 99 Wildrose Drive.

by his predecessor.

In his eight years under Wolcott's tutelage, Cargill helped the SC men's gymnasts finish among the nation's top five on seven occasions, including the national Division II championship in 1977. Both men were named coach of the year that season by the National Association of Gymnastic Coaches.

In 1978-79 Cargill served as head coach while Wolcott was on a sabbatical leave, and he guided the team to a third place finish in the Division II nationals.

As an undergraduate at Springfield, Cargill was named Most Valuable Gymnast twice and he spent four years on the gymnastic exhibition team, appearing in Andover on occasion. He also won the horizontal bar and vaulting events at the Eastern League championships and prestigious Nissen award in 1967.

Upon receiving his BA in physical education in 1968, he served as head gymnastics coach at Framingham South High School before entering on a tour of duty with the U.S. Army. Cargill spent three years as assistant gymnastics coach at U.S. Military Academy, West Point.

Cargill, 35, earned a master's degree in physical education at Springfield in 1975. Since then he has served as head gymnastics coach of the Saudi Arabian Gymnastic team (1976) and as master teacher at the New England Gymnastic clinic (1975-77).

As assistant professor of health, physical education and recreation at SC, Cargill is married to the former Denise Lemieux, a '75 SC graduate. The couple has a five-month-old daughter Pamela, and reside in East Longmeadow.

the proposed amendment.

"You're fine-tuning something you're not even sure the town wants," she said.

Selectman Norma Gammon added that many townspeople are concerned about the potential locations of multi-family housing developments. "Where are you going to put it? Is it going to be in my backyard? That's what people want to know," she said.

Kear explained that the answer to those questions is "complicated," because the restrictions on multi-family housing would be built into the bylaw, which has not yet been completed by the planners. For example, the bylaw could stipulate that multi-family developments be located within one mile of a business district, he said.

However, the director pointed to a map on the wall of the planners' conference room, which shows those areas of town that are currently undeveloped, or under development. Interested residents are welcome to come in and examine that map at any time, he said.

The Community Development and Planning staff also intends to map out the parts of town that currently have water and sewer systems that could support multi-family developments, Kear added.

Planner David Gravalles suggested that a joint meeting between the planning board and selectmen for the discussion of community concerns might be "helpful."

Gammon agreed, and suggested the meeting be tentatively scheduled for Monday, Feb. 23.

Backman's remarks were prompted by the planning board's discussion of a first draft proposed zoning bylaw amendment prepared by Phillip Herr, a Boston-based planning consultant. Kear called the "basic structure" of the proposal "very strong, very sound."

Herr has suggested that the town consider creating an "overlay" district for multi-family housing, so that all the requirements of the original, underlying zone would still apply to multi-family developments. The zoning would therefore allow a population density equal to the density of a single-family zone, if that were the underlying district.

However, the proposed bylaw also includes a "density bonus" system, which would allow the developer to increase the density by as much as three times, if the developer met conditions stipulated by the town.

For example, the developer could earn increased density by preserving open space or historical buildings, or other measures considered important by the town, and written into the bylaw.

Herr's proposal conforms closely with a "white paper" on multi-family housing which the town manager recently presented to the planning board and selectmen, Kear said.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said in his paper that the town should try to meet the needs of the elderly and young married couples, as well as try to strengthen the central business district with new multi-family housing.

The selectmen told the manager Monday night that they are interested in the concept of an overlay zone with density bonuses, but would not recommend that approach to the planning board without additional information.

JOYN US

Hi! I'm Laurie. Have you ever noticed those inches creeping up on you? Well, you don't until it's too late. You look in the mirror, hold your breath & say, "Well, I'll diet tomorrow."

Tomorrow comes and goes & before you know it...Bang! You go shopping & the size 7 rack turns into 11's. I stopped feeling sorry for myself & decided to do something about it. I then went to Joy. They gave me the incentive I needed. In a short time I was back in my 7's, not only looking but feeling great.

Watching yourself improve is great but even better when people notice.

Thank You,
Laurie Boucher

Composer In Service At Chapel

On January 30, liturgical composer and recording artist Debbie Friedman will lead the Friday night services for Temple Emanuel of Merrimack Valley at Cochran Chapel (lower level), Phillips Academy, Andover.

Born in Utica, N.Y., Friedman was educated in St. Paul, Minnesota, currently resides in Houston, Texas, and has sung for Jewish communities throughout the country. Her works include melodies based on the biblical Song of Songs and themes from Ecclesiastes. Her music is described as infectious, participatory and joyous. Songs such as "Sing Unto God," "Not By Might, Not By Power" and "Thou Shalt Love" are almost universally known and sung.

Temple Emanuel of Merrimack Valley, whose spiritual leader is Rabbi Everett Gendler, includes the music of Debbie Friedman throughout the year, so this Friday night's personal appearance is especially meaningful.

Services on this night are being held on the campus of Phillips Academy so that students wishing to join the congregation in welcoming her will be able to do so.

Services begin at 8 p.m.

The Andover Historical Society is sponsoring another of its free First Sunday series this Sunday, Feb. 1 at 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. at the Historical Society, 97 Main St. The program features slides and taped narration on "The William Jenkins House and the Underground Railroad."

The reason behind this showing is that the society is engaged in a variety of efforts to help contemporary Andover residents better understand their community's rich cultural heritage. Historical slide shows, offered the first Sunday of the winter months, are only one of its programs in public education.

Of the many old houses in Andover, one of the most unusual was built by Samuel Jenkins before the Revolutionary War in 1765. It is now known as the William Jenkins house. William, grandson of the original builder, was active in town before the Civil War.

Life at the William Jenkins house, located on what was the Boston-Haverhill Turnpike in the eastern part of town near the Harold Parker State Forest, was both exciting politically and diversified industrially around the middle of the 19th century.

State Liquor Board Upholds Decision Of Selectmen

The state Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission (ABCC) has decided to uphold the selectmen's order to suspend the license of McCracken's Wine and Spirits, 4 Poor St., for 20 working days.

After a hearing held last Thursday in Boston, the ABCC found that a McCracken's clerk, Kevin Kennedy, 20, of North Andover, had sold a bottle of wine to a minor on June 30.

The town was represented at the hearing by Town Counsel Alfred Daniels. The 17-year-old girl who says she bought the wine from Kennedy appeared as a witness, along with Juvenile Officer Joseph Hastings of the Andover Police Department. Hastings arrested the clerk on the evening of the incident.

McCracken's was represented by Atty. Joseph Monteforte of Saugus. Kennedy and license-holder William Bucu appeared as witnesses.

It is now up to the selectmen to reset the dates for the license suspension, according to Donald Matrow, assistant to the chairman of the ABCC.

The selectmen found McCracken's guilty of the license violation after a Dec. 1 hearing at town hall. They originally ordered the license suspended from Dec. 4 through Dec. 27.

However, Bucu obtained an Essex Superior Court order to delay the suspension until an appeal could be heard before the ABCC.

The selectmen recently approved a change of management for the package store; Bucu's brother, Stephen Bucu, is now the manager.

Kennedy was convicted of procuring alcohol for a minor after a trial in Lawrence District Court in November. The clerk appealed the decision before a six-member jury in Haverhill District Court, but subsequently withdrew that appeal.

Want Cable Study Speeded

The town manager is negotiating the final steps to sign up the consulting company that will study the proposals submitted by two firms competing for Andover's cable television license, and the selectmen are anxious to hurry that process along.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark Monday night told the board he will contract consultant Malarkey Taylor Associates of Washington, D.C., to study the proposals of Rollins Cablevision and Continental Cablevision, as soon as the two firms pay $6,000 each to foot the consultant's bill.

All that remains now is to "work out the hourly billing rate, since we will probably deal with (the consultant) under that rate," the manager said.

However, Chairman James Abramson urged the manager to "wrap it up" as quickly as possible. "Let's move it along," he told Clark.

The chairman also asked why the consulting firm, in a recent letter to the manager, indicated that they will begin their study 60 days after they receive payment. Earlier this month, Clark said the firm would begin within two or three weeks of receiving payment.

The manager replied that the consultants are apparently busier now than they

Enmore St. Folks To Park On Sidewalk

The residents of four homes on Enmore Street say the town's winter ban against overnight on-street parking leaves them with no safe place to park their cars every night.

The selectmen Monday night offered the residents a solution, on a trial basis only: parking on the sidewalk.

The residents had hoped the selectmen would exempt them from the traffic regulation that prohibits on-street parking from midnight to sunrise, Dec. 1 through April 1; the board enacted that regulation in 1968.

Atty. Kenneth Holmes of Lawrence, representing the four homeowners, said the ban created a "hardship" for the residents because their homes have no driveways, and there is no room on their property to build driveways.

In past years, residents of those houses parked in an empty lot on the street, but a house has now been built on that lot. Rich Marino of 32 Enmore St. told the board.

Holmes said the town manager had suggested the residents park on a small street connecting Enmore Street and Linwood Road, where the cars would not be in the way of snowplows. But the residents were not satisfied with that solution because the connector road is approximately 130 yards from their homes — too far for them to feel safe during a night-time emergency, the attorney said.

"My wife has a baby and there's another one on the way," Marino added. "I think it's unreasonable to expect us to run down the street in the middle of the night in an emergency."

The attorney argued that allowing the residents to park their cars on one side of the street would not create any expenses for the town, and that the street is wide enough to allow the parking.

Other Enmore Street residents have said that they are not opposed to letting their neighbors park on the street. Holmes added.

Selectman Jerry Silverman, who lives on nearby Dufton Road, agreed that it would be nearly impossible to build driveways on the residents' property because there is a "25-foot embankment" on their side of the road. "You'd have to tunnel through it to build a driveway on Rich's side of the street," he commented.

Silverman proposed that the board grant the exemption: "I know we don't like to make exceptions," he explained, "but these people really have a problem."

But Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark maintained that allowing the residents to park on the street would force snowplows to return the following night — with drivers on overtime — to clear the side of the street where the cars had been parked.

"Putting the town to that additional expense" would not be appropriate under Proposition 2½, he suggested.

And, Clark added, granting an exception that is not "absolutely necessary (because parking is available on the connector road)" would not be wise, because it would prompt other residents in the area to request exemptions as well.

Director of Public Works Robert McQuade suggested the compromise of parking on the sidewalk, and Atty. Holmes quickly agreed that that would be acceptable to the residents, as long as they would not be ticketed for parking there.

Selectman Chairman James Abramson asked the residents to report their license plate numbers to the town manager, to be relayed to the police department. Only those cars would be allowed to park on the sidewalk, he said.

The chairman also asked the residents to sign releases waiving any rights to file claims against the town for damage to their cars: "I don't want to see the bills for their mufflers when they go over those curbstones," he warned.

While three board members voted to support the motion on a trial basis this winter, Selectman Norma Gammon voted "present" (Selectman Edward Harris was absent). "I'm a little bit worried about this. We may be opening Pandora's box," she explained. "A lot of people in Shawsheen have spent mucho bucks to put in driveways on small lots, just to comply with this regulation."

Selectman Susan Poore emphasized that the sidewalk parking is on trial through April 1. "If we end up with 150 requests for this in the coming year, we may have to reconsider."

Inadequate Night Police Protection Is Discussed

Phillip Cronin of the recently-created Wildwood Neighborhood Association Monday night told the selectmen that inadequate night-time police protection is at least partly to blame for a series of early morning break-ins in his neighborhood.

Cronin, of 9 Ivy Lane, presented the selectmen with a petition for additional police patrols in the Wildwood Road area, signed by 201 residents.

He explained that there have been seven break-ins in the neighborhood since Halloween, with four of them occurring between 1 and 6 a.m., while the victims were asleep. On Dec. 8, during the most recent incident, an Ivy Lane resident was attacked and "left for dead," Cronin said.

"This has been shocking, it really has," the neighborhood spokesman said. "None of us have slept very well. There have been no arrests, or even any good suspects."

The area residents were surprised to learn that only two cruisers patrol the entire town every night, with a total of four officers on duty, and that the number of patrolmen on duty at night has not been increased for nearly ten years, Cronin said.

"This lack of protection in the early morning is very serious," he said. "It's a question of the responsibility here of protecting all of us."

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark indicated that the police have increased patrols in the Wildwood area recently, but are working with "limited resources. There is vandalism in Ballardvale, and a high crime rate in West Andover, plus all the other work they are expected to do."

Plans to increase police personnel have been undercut by Proposition 2½, he added. "I really don't have anything encouraging to say," the manager commented. "It's pointless to add services now when they will only be cut next year."

However, he said that patrols could be increased to some extent by reassigning personnel on the three shifts, perhaps taking some officers off the early evening shift and adding them to the early morning shift.

But the third shift could not be significantly increased without additional personnel, Clark said. He added that the allocation of manpower is one facet of the police contract, which is currently under negotiation.

Cronin called the recent creation of the Wildwood Neighborhood Association the "brighter side" of the crime problem.

The neighborhood group has formed a telephone system for alerting one another to suspicious activity in the area, has started a monthly newsletter, and plans to meet monthly, Cronin said.

Social activities such as block parties are also in the offing to keep the group flourishing, he added: "I think you'll find we are not a flash in the pan."

Cronin also praised the efforts of Crime Prevention Officer Joseph Oulette, who has met several times with groups of Wildwood Road area residents and is now acting as the neighborhood's liaison to the police department.

Oulette has brought two "major messages" to the residents, Cronin said: to call the police without hesitation "when-ever you see something strange," and to keep an eye on neighbors' homes.

"It sounds very simple," he said, "but it took Joe Oulette coming out to our houses and talking about this to make it happen. He's very effective."

The officer also makes safety checks of homes, and demonstrates a variety of locks.

The neighborhood activities apparently have had some impact on crime, Cronin told the board. "In the past six weeks, we've not even had any vandalism."

The residents are now planning to apply for funds from the town's Community Watch Committee, to help add lighting to their homes.

Both the selectmen and town manager commended the Wildwood Neighborhood Association for the group's crime prevention efforts. "It's one of the more constructive things I've seen accomplished in my three years on the board," commented Chairman James Abramson.

"You've got a lot going for you out there," added Selectman Susan Poore. "When a neighborhood begins to help itself, the problem is already fifty percent solved."

Fatally Injured On Lovejoy Road

Mrs. Alice (Barnford) Lennon, wife of Dr. Robert Lennon, 55, 5 Osgood St., Andover, died Tuesday at Lawrence General hospital of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Lovejoy Road.

Mrs. Lennon was operating her car on Lovejoy road about 3 p.m., when it went out of control and struck a tree.

Born in North Andover, she was a graduate of Johnson High school and Lawrence General hospital School of Nursing. She was a registered nurse and an attendant of St. Robert Bellarmine church.

She is survived by her husband, Dr. Robert Lennon; her mother, Mrs. Edith (Anderson) Barnford of North Andover; sons Robert, serving in the U.S. Navy, and Geoffrey and John, both of Andover; a daughter, Mary Ann Lennon of Andover; sisters, Mrs. James (Ruth) Carabello and Mrs. John (Janet) McCabe, both of North Andover; a brother J. Allen Barnford of Horseheads, N.Y. and Harold Bamford of Salem, N.H.; several nieces and nephews.

Private funeral services will be held. Friends may call at the Dewhirst and Conte funeral home, 17 Third St., North Andover today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Memorial contributions may be made to the charity of one's own choice or to the Boy Scouts of America, North Essex Council.

McBride To Head Planners

Planning Board member Frank McBride was elected chairman of that board Tuesday night during a regular meeting of the planners at the Essex Street theatre building. Former Chairman Paul Teplitz recently resigned from the board.

David Gravalles was elected vice chairman, the position formerly held by McBride, while Andrew Girdwood will continue as secretary.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark will appoint a new member to fill the vacancy on the board as soon as possible, according to Rhys Kear, director of Community Development and Planning.

Exploring The White World Of Hospitals

Students at the Cooperative Community Nursery School toured Lawrence General Hospital last week under the supervision of the LGH Aid Association. The children investigated several departments including x-ray and physical therapy before gathering in the cafeteria for a morning snack. Before leaving, the children received doctor and nurse caps and a postcard to remember their visit to LGH. Photos clockwise from upper right: The students show a good deal of interest about x-rays; Daniel Buchholz, 3 Delphi Cir., asks a question; Sharing a seat are Jill Kubit, 8 Lansbury Lane and Laura Cavicchi, 24 Wildrose Drive; Director of Physical Therapy Vivian Ackley RPT describes her work at LGH; Scott Ginsberg, 99 Wildrose Drive and Lisa Gloddy 14 Thresher Road, listen intently; the whirlpool was especially popular; Three year old Caroline Lamanna, Hemlock Drive, displays her future profession.

Get On With It

If there is one attribute the Andover board of selectmen seems to hold to tenaciously, it is their ability to protract an issue or item over long periods of time.

It has been characteristic of past boards and certainly is being perpetuated by the incumbents, particularly with regard to the awarding of a cable television franchise.

The board was given the opportunity to have the matter over and done with last October when an advisory committee, appointed by them made their recommendation.

Selectmen held the required hearing on the matter, during which representatives of both firms which were considered by the advisors had the opportunity to provide further input to the selectmen, the awarding authority.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the board and the town manager opted for going to consultant services to assist in the final determination and award.

After considerable differences of opinion regarding various consultants, the two firms finally agreed on one and also on payment for the services.

It had been hoped that the consultant review and recommendations would be before the board by Feb. 23 in order that a decision could be made at that session.

But, it now appears that there will be further delay, the town manager indicating this week that the consultants are 1) busier than when the matter was originally proposed and 2) the firm has indicated it would initiate the study 60 days after they receive payment.

All of this indicates further delay in an issue which should not take that long.

The selectmen made their initial mistake back in October by not making the decision then and there, regardless of who was awarded the franchise.

They had received the report of their advisory committee which had worked long and efficiently in their study of the proposals. Their opinion and recommendation was not a frivolous one, but based on a well-thought, studied and documented review of the offerings to be made to the town by the competing firms.

Selectmen decided to go another step and secure consultant services. It was, in essence, somewhat of an effront to the study committee.

Dracut went through a similar procedure, but the difference there was that selectmen accepted the advisory committee's report, awarded the franchise and the town is now being mapped and engineered for service. Doubtless the townspeople there will have cable tv capabilities long before Andover.

It seems appropriate for Andover's board of selectmen to resolve the issue as soon as possible, even to the point of establishing Feb. 23 as the deadline for the decision regardless of the status of the consultant's work.

Frankly, it is highly recommended that the consultant's efforts be pitched and the decision made.

Get it over with!

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago - January 1906

A new horse has been purchased by the Selectmen for use in the fire department, to take the place of one that was sold recently. The horse was one of the gray pair driven by William Red and the new one is of the same color and was purchased from William Nokes of Reading.

Harry Chadwick injured his left arm so badly on Monday evening, while coming out of the fire engine house, that he has been confined to his home for a few days this week.

T.A. Cushman, P.A. '05, Y. '09, of Salem Street, who was captain of the basketball team at Phillips Academy last year, is one of the men on the southern trip of the Yale basketball squad.

A very charming party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Brown on Red Spring Road Saturday afternoon in honor of their daughter, Etta, who attained her third birthday. The afternoon was spent in singing, speaking, and playing games, and a collation was served.

A resident of this town was sentenced to serve two and one half years in the house of correction for highway robbery, at the session of superior court in Salem yesterday. It will be remembered that this man knocked down and robbed an overseer of Marland mills, who had alighted from an electric car in Frye Village about a month ago, thinking he had arrived in the square. The robber secured 60 cents, but missed $11 which was in the man's pocket.

50 Years Ago - January 1931

The firm of J.W. Barnard & Son, shoe manufacturers, established in Andover about 75 years ago is in process of liquidation. The wheels ceased to turn on Dec. 20, and this week machinery and stock has been sold and removed from the building on Barnard Street. The firm specialized

A Punchard Avenue youth who was arrested in Everett on Saturday night following the holdup of a taxi driver was held in $2,000 bonds for a hearing on Wednesday, when he appeared before Judge Davis of the Malden district court, Monday morning. At the hearing the boy, 15, was charged with carrying a dangerous weapon and robbing while armed.

The Board of Health has prohibited the throwing of garbage or debris in the vacant lot at the corner of School Street and Lupin Road. It is charged that refuse has been thrown there not only by some living in the vicinity, but also from passing machines.

Two Phillips Academy students took the administration of justice into their own hands Sunday afternoon immediately after they caught a young man on the campus attired in a stolen suit of clothes. The students were entering Bishop hall on the grounds when they were attracted by a man, said to have been intoxicated, standing in the corridor of the dormitory building. They forced him to leave and then retired to their room to discover that a suit of clothes was missing. Retracing their steps, they overtook the thief, making his getaway and attired in the student's clothes. Previous to this they had found the discarded apparel of the thief strewn over the grounds. The thief was forced to exchange the clothes in hurried fashion and was then allowed to proceed on his way.

25 Years Ago - January 1956

More than 250 mothers will march for polio next Thursday night. The Jan. 26 date, announced as the only formal solicitation this year, will find persons in each of five districts heading up large volunteer corps in their sections of town. "The fight against polio isn't over yet," emphasized polio patients in 1955, with one fatality from the disease.

All building records in the town were shattered in 1955. Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman said this week that permits for 210 new homes were issued in 1955 at a value of $3,669,300. Estimated cost of all building in the town during the year is $6,575,845.

The town meeting will be asked to allow the town manager form of government to be placed on the ballot for consideration by all the voters. That decision came last Saturday when all five members of the moderator-appointed study committee were present. Thus the voters at town meeting will be asked to vote to have the legislature petitioned during the current session.

Deputy Fire Chief Albert Cole, Jr. has been granted a leave of absence from Jan. 27 to April 7. He will undertake advanced Army photographic training in line with his reserve duties and his wartime photographic assignment in the Pentagon.

A new town hall may be requested by the selectmen in the town warrant. That board told the planning board, for use in its capital expenditure planning, that a decision will be made by the end of the week on whether to ask the voters to approve $425,000 for a new town house.

10 Years Ago - January 1971

Town meeting in March should provide some interesting debate on some unusual articles submitted for consideration in the 65-article warrant. Of particular interest is an article authored by Gerald Silverman of the West Junior High seeking a change in town meeting form. Silverman's article would change the meeting from the present open, to a representative town meeting with 240 voting members apportioned

The state department of public works has approved Chapter 90 funds for Andover in the amount of $62,000 for 1971. The funds will be applied to work on Andover Street and Dascomb Road. Reconstruction of the roads will be undertaken with funds provided by the state, county and local governments.

Plans are now complete for the Doherty School addition which will be before town meeting in March. Bids have been called and are due to be opened in late February for presentation of total costs to the voters at town meeting.

Even on Sunday Memorial Hall Library will be open, according to new library director Harry Sagris of Ipswich, who assumed his new post this week. When queried about the Sunday hours request and student petition that came out of the Teenage-Adult Collaborative, the new director said he planned to discuss hours, possible student staffing assistance, with students soon, and hoped to have Sunday library hours within a month.

Andover's fire whistle is apparently permanently silenced. When the fire department moved into its new quarters in the public safety center, no provision was made to provide a whistle due to the new console system which records alarms rapidly. The selectmen recently found that it would cost in the vicinity of $11,700 to install a new whistle.

A traditional rivalry of long standing has come to an end. The annual Thanksgiving Day football game between Andover High and North Andover is no more. Replacing North Andover in the turkey day classic will be Central Catholic of Lawrence. The series began with North Andover in 1911.

Memorial Hall Library

Phila Slade of North Andover is the February artist at Memorial Hall Library. Her watercolor paintings are now on display through the month of February. Mrs. Slade, active in many community organizations, has turned to art as her new avocation. A graduate of Cornell University, she has recently taken courses at the Art Institute of Boston and the Massachusetts College of Art. A member of the Andover Artists Guild, Newburyport Art Association and the Haverhill Arts Association, Mrs. Slade recently completed a series of watercolors commissioned by Davis & Furber Machine Company as part of their building rehabilitation program.

Book Of The Week

"The Random House Guide to Natural Areas of the Eastern United States" is featured this week at Memorial Hall Library. A new addition to the reference collection, this guidebook will appeal to the naturalist, bird watcher, camper, hiker, canoeist, fisherman, hunter and sightseer. From Maine to Florida, the authors selected sites for their natural qualities and included state and national parks, forests, wildlife preserves and privately owned lands open to the public. Each entry includes how to get there, site description, site features, hours, activities, rules and regulations. Whether you are heading south now or planning next summer's trip in advance, you will find this guidebook a valuable tool for a peaceful and natural outdoor vacation.

Reagan's ready to uncap oil prices, say sources

By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON — Sources close to President Ronald Reagan expect him to deregulate domestic oil prices very soon. The paperwork is ready. It's marked "top secret" and runs about 200 pages. Only three copies are said to exist.

This sensitive report was prepared by Reagan's energy transition team and handed over to the new energy secretary, Jim Edwards. Some sections were delivered to President Reagan himself.

The report presents three options. The first calls for immediate decontrol. The second allows a slower decontrol process over a few months. The third option simply holds to the Carter administration's schedule, which calls for decontrol in October.

The transition team clearly favored immediate decontrol. Under the other two options, the move would be anticipated months before it happened, and the experts don't believe this would have a healthy impact on the market. The preparations might also be thrown off by some imponderable like the Iraq-Iran war.

Right now, the report argues, crude oil stocks are high. This would minimize the impact of immediate decontrol. The increase in gasoline prices should be limited.

But the report does anticipate problems. Small independent refiners, for example, are now able to purchase crude oil at subsidized prices. Decontrol would make it difficult for them to compete with the big boys. Some of them would be driven out of business.

The top-secret report makes one other urgent recommendation. The Energy Department should plan better for energy emergencies. Contingency planning has been relegated to a small office but Reagan's aides believe this should be given far more attention.

SHAKY SYSTEM: Millions of Americans depend on Social Security for food and shelter. But the system is shaky. The cost to the taxpayers is going up and the benefit checks are buying less at the supermarket.

A congressional study has termed the entire Social Security system a "time bomb" that could "explode unless it's defused."

At one time, President Reagan talked about scrapping Social Security altogether. Then he suggested it be turned into a voluntary system.

Now he has given up this idea. Congress could never be persuaded to abolish or alter Social Security. The most Reagan can hope to do is squeeze some of the fat out of the system. Sources close to the president say this is exactly what he intends to do.

We have seen some of the unpublished investigative reports on the Social Security system. They show that a staggering $2 billion is wasted every year on the disability program alone.

The bureaucrats find it easier to pay claims than to investigate them. "As many as 584,000 beneficiaries are not currently disabled but (are) still receiving disability benefits," states an unpublished report prepared by the General Accounting Office.

More than half of the scheduled medical examinations in one recent year were never performed at all. Yet these are supposed to determine whether applicants for disability benefits are entitled to them.

Up to 80 percent of the claimants on the disability rolls, the GAO investigators found, are never re-evaluated once their names are on the list.

These are just a few of the Social Security abuses that are now endangering the whole system. The new president will try to eliminate them rather than change the system itself.

POPULAR CLUB: Attorney General William French Smith has come under fire for his membership in the exclusive all-male Bohemian club of San Francisco. It's no worse, he believes, than belonging to the Boy Scouts.

Smith also has some high-ranking company. Other members of the Bohemian club include Justin Dart, the California millionaire who is part of Reagan's inner circle. Vice President George Bush, conservative columnist William F. Buckley, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger -- and Ronald Reagan himself.

Indeed, the membership roster of the Bohemian club reads like a Who's Who of big business and Republican politics.

WELL REPRESENTED: There are no Hispanics or Jews in Reagan's new Cabinet. But there are two Schwenkfelders.

The Schwenkfelders are a small Christian sect which was started by a German named Casper Schwenckfeld von Ossig in the 16th century. The followers of Schwenckfeld's brand of Protestant Reformation were brutally persecuted and 180 of them emigrated to Pennsylvania in 1734.

Today, there are 2,500 Schwenkfelders in the United States. Among them, are the secretary of health and human services, Richard Schweiker, and the secretary of transportation, Drew Lewis.

FREE SERVICE: The Soviet Union owns a retreat for its diplomats in a scenic area of the Eastern Shore of Maryland. Recently, the Russians called on the local fire department to quench a blaze on their property. Since the diplomats don't pay taxes, they got the services of the firefighters free of charge.

St. Robert's Still Undefeated

St. Robert A continued as the only undefeated team in the Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division, while outstanding individual efforts by Tim Perry and Jim Lowe powered St. Robert B and West Parish to victories in action last week at the West Junior High gym.

St. Robert A trimmed St. Augustine A, 35-16. St. Robert B rolled over Ballardvale United, 40-11, and West Parish stopped South Church, 27-19.

St. Robert A 35-16

Ahead by a slender 11-8 margin after two periods, league leader St. Robert A erupted to outscore St. Augustine A 24-8 in the second half to earn its sixth straight victory.

Chris Fay (12) and Paul Finnegan (11) led the St. Robert's attack. David Bates added 8 points, Ed Melia 3, and Dave Collins swished a second quarter foul shot.

Sara Sapuppo filling in at a starting guard position contributed a solid floor game.

Walter Pitts and Rick Sullivan paced the balanced attack of St. Augustine with 4 points each, while Bill Baldwin netted 3, Tom Bolduc 2, John Hopwood 2 and Keith Driscoll 1.

Inability to convert free throws (2-of-18) plagued St. Augustine's throughout the contest for St. Robert's scored on an acceptable 13-of-26 charities.

St. Robert B 40-11

Six players scored points for St. Robert B as the victors led 11-2, 26-3, and 34-8 at the first three checkpoints against a green but spirited Ballardvale United Team.

Lowe took up the scoring slack for West Parish when team point leader Chris Marcella was forced to the sidelines with an ankle injury late in the first period.

Marcella in limited action scored five

West Parish, Christ A In Showdown

By Rick Harrison

Undefeated West Parish A and once-beaten Christ Church A set the stage for their key first-place showdown, held earlier this week, as both chalked up victories last week in Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Gold Division action at the West Junior High gym.

West A won its sixth straight with a 36-19 decision over St. Augustine A, while Christ A had a tough time before nudging past winless St. Augustine B, 18-13.

In other Gold Division contests, St. Robert's B outslugged Temple Emanuel, 44-31, and St. Robert's A stunned St. Augustine C, 18-11.

West Parish A, 36-19

West Parish A contained division scoring leader Chris Bartley well in the first half, constructing a 20-10 lead on the strength of a 14-6 second quarter, and the winners put the game out of reach with a 10-4 third period run sparked by Rob DiTroia.

DiTroia pumped home six of his game-high 14 points in the third stanza, and leading the West A effort during the second quarter were Scott Kelly with five points and Rob Barnard with three of his 7.

Larry Aiello contributed 6 points, while other fieldgoals were tossed in by Tim Boudreau and Chris Abell.

Steve Gemmell, although he didn't score, was invaluable to the West A victory as he kept Chris Bartley in check during the first half.

Chris heated up over the last two quarters, flipping through nine points to finish the game with 13 and hike his season total to 108.

Tim Scanlon netted the other 6 points for St. Augustine A, which entered the game at 4-1, while hustling performances came from Scott McAllister, Mike Powers, Paul Davies, Joe Hurley and Scott Kirwin.

Leo Gravell also played well for West A, and strong work under the boards came from DiTroia, Scott Kelly, Steve Gemmell and Larry Aiello.

Christ A, 18-13

Christ A improved to 6-1, but had trouble shaking pesky St. Augustine B which trailed only 8-7 at halftime.

Doug Rotondi notched a pair of baskets, while Beau Jones added a fieldgoal, as Christ A gained some breathing room in the third period.

The rivals scored four points each in the fourth period, and St. Augustine B's inability to convert its free throws (1-for-11) hurt considerably.

Beau Jones shared game-high scoring honors with 6 points, Robbie Carpenter and Rotondi tossed in 4 apiece, and single two-pointers were swished by Andy Frost and Mark Polakow.

Keith Dauber, Chris Scott and Gretchen Suchodolski played strong defensive games for C-C.

Scott Grant popped in 6 points to pace upset-minded St. Augustine B, while Mike Moriarty added 4, Paul Sapienza 2 and Drew Dunn a free throw.

Alan Sillars and Maura Dunn were other St. Augustine notables.

St. Robert's B, 44-31

Temple Emanuel got off to another fast start, racing to a 14-4 first quarter lead, but St. Robert's B closed the gap to 22-21 at halftime and broke the game open behind the third period sharpshooting of guard John Perry.

Perry poured through 10 of his 14 points

Gerry Nassif chipped in 7 points, Chris Sapuppo 4 and Chris Concemi 3, while other hustling efforts came from Chris Ring, Mike Moynihan and Larry Middleton.

Myles Greenberg sparked the balanced

Temple attack with 10 points, Adam Liberman returned to fire through 8 points, Paul Keller hooped 6, Mitch Levine 5 and Eric Shenker 2.

Christ Church Moves Ahead

Christ Church C remained undefeated, and moved one-half game ahead of idle West Parish B, as Bart Kalkstein and Dave Pratt combined for 22 points to power C-C past West Parish C 24-8 in Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Blue Division action last week at South School.

The victory was the sixth straight for Christ C, while West B is 5-0 with a game in hand.

Another key contest saw South Church remain in solid title contention, lifting its record to 5-1 with a surprisingly easy 27-16 triumph over St. Robert's C at the West Junior High gym.

In other Blue Division results, St. Augustine F nudged St. Robert's F, 16-14. St. Robert's E stopped St. Robert's D, 17-8. Ballardvale United B trimmed St. Augustine E, 27-17, and Ballardvale United A tipped Christ B, 16-10.

Christ C, 24-8

Bart Kalkstein poured through 14 points and Dave Pratt added 8, but Christ C didn't really break the game wide open until the final period.

The winners inched ahead 4-0 in the first quarter, 8-0 at half, and led 12-4 after three before both teams doubled their totals in the fourth stanza.

Jonathan Pratt tossed through a fourth quarter bucket to complete the victors' offense, while other standouts were Bob Beanland and Dave Lewis.

Mike DiMeo once again sparked West C, popping through 6 points, and Kurt Nickerson hooped a third period fieldgoal.

Others playing well for West C were Sean Dyer, Jeff Patrakis, John Hess and Kyle Marcella.

South, 27-16

St. Robert's C, which hadn't played for three weeks because of the holiday layoff and a subsequent bye, came up flat as South dominated the game for three quarters.

South, whose only loss came against West B, led 11-6, 17-8 and 25-8 at the first three checkpoints.

St. Robert's C staged a fourth period rally, using an 8-2 run, but the deficit was far too large to overcome.

Division scoring leader Scott Wilkins (61 points) emerged as game-high marksman with 10 points, while John Todt added 8 for South.

Phil Stocking chipped in 3 points while Dave Sorrie, Robbie Hendry and Scott Brink netted single baskets.

Gary Marotta and Matt Gibson paced St. Robert's C with 8 and 6 points respectively.

Greg DeVoir pocketed a fourth period shot, and other notables for St. Robert's C were Greg Harris, Dave Dilling and Jeff Nazzaro.

St. Augustine F, 16-14 (ot)

Sean Derrah's lay-up proved to be the only points of a two-minute overtime period, as St. Augustine F rallied from an early deficit to edge tough-luck St. Robert's F at West Elementary.

St. Robert's led 4-0 after one, 10-6 at halftime and 10-8 after three. But Derrah and Brian Costello led a fourth period surge by St. Augustine that tied it at the end of regulation.

Derrah finished as game-high scorer with 12 points, while Costello and Brian Hannon tossed through single buckets.

Adding solid defensive efforts were Andy Hamel, Brendan Lynch and Todd McAllister.

John Slavin pumped in 11 points to lead St. Robert's F, nine of them in the opening half, while Sean Melia added 2 points and Jim Davis a free throw.

St. Robert's E, 17-8

St. Robert's E won its fourth game in six starts, using a 9-0 third period burst to bust open a tight game against St. Robert's D at West Elementary.

Mike Klinger powered the pivotal 9-0 run with five of his 7 points, while Tim Smith chipped in a basket and Mike French also scored.

French finished the game with 4 points, Billy Martin 2 and Raj Sheel 2.

Tom Sheehan collected 4 points for St. Robert's D, while other baskets were

It was an uphill battle from the start but Dartmouth, paced by the fourth quarter heroics of Dave Vickers, Steve Gemmell, Matt Geiger and John Twomey, put together a strong rally to edge Harvard 31-25 in their Andover Youth Basketball League Intermediate Division showdown last week at West Junior High.

Both teams entered the game undefeated, and the result left Dartmouth alone in first place with a perfect 5-0 record.

Dartmouth Alone At Top

In other contests, North Carolina State trimmed Boston College 29-21, and Villanova dumped Holy Cross, 20-10.

Dartmouth, 31-25

Harvard held the Big Green to just four points in the first half, assuming an 11-4 lead, but Dartmouth erupted for 27 second half points to hand the Crimson (4-1) their first defeat.

Last year's championship playoff opponents both started slowly, missing a number of shots and finishing the first quarter locked in a 2-2 tie after Steve Gemmell (Dartmouth) and Matt Dorsey traded baskets.

Harvard jumped ahead 11-4 in the second stanza, as John Perry scored a pair of buckets on strong drives and other fieldgoals were notched by Steve Redgate and Dorsey.

Larry Aiello and Matt Geiger popped in quick third quarter fieldgoals for Dartmouth, cutting the gap to 11-8, but Redgate and Dorsey countered for the Crimson to boost the lead back to seven (15-8).

Geiger and Aiello continued to provide the offense for the Big Green, who continued to chip away and closed to within 19-15 after three quarters.

Dartmouth finally caught Harvard with just over three minutes to play, tying the score 25-25 with Steve Gemmell and Dave Vickers sparking the comeback surge.

Vickers gave the Big Green their first lead since 2-0, converting both ends of a one and one foul situation to make it 27-25.

The rivals traded turnovers until Matt Geiger laid in an insurance basket with less than a minute to play.

John Twomey wrapped up the winners' offense by swishing a pair of free throws just nine seconds from the finish.

The 16-6 fourth quarter explosion carried Dartmouth to the win.

Matt Geiger emerged as game-high marksman with 13 points. Steve Gemmell and Dave Vickers netted 6 apiece, Larry Aiello 4 and John Twomey 2.

Gemmell and Twomey also contributed hustling defensive efforts, while other Dartmouth standouts were Scott DeGregorio, Dave Noyes, Lisa Horgan, Phil Kendall, Sue Grogan and Tony Lautieri.

John Perry pumped through 9 points for Harvard, Steve Redgate stuffed 8, Matt Dorsey 6 and Jay Trepanier 2.

Beau Jones, Kyle Marcella, John Bolioian and Chris Nelson also played well for the Crimson.

N.C. State, 29-21

North Carolina State fell behind 6-4 in the first quarter, but used a 13-0 second period burst to build a commanding 17-6 halftime lead over Boston College.

The Eagles chipped away in the third period, with Joe Hart's eight points helping cut the deficit to 21-18, but Rob DiTroia and Rich Bourdelais sparked an 8-3 Wolfpack run in the final quarter to seal the victory.

Rob DiTroia led the N.C. State offense with 13 points, while Mike DiMeo pocketed 5 points, Tom Deleire 5, Rich Bourdelais 4 and Tim Higgins 2.

Scott Powers added a solid all-around effort for the victors.

Division scoring leader Joe Hart led all sharpshooters with 15 points for CB, and single buckets were delivered by Lydia Wise, John Tateosian and Eric Frank.

THE TOWNSMAN, JANUARY 29, 1981

By Rick Harrison

The Bullets ripped the Hawks 61-38 to gain sole possession of second place, and the defending champion Lakers remained undefeated with a 43-21 romp over the Kings, highlighting Senior Division play in the Andover Youth Basketball League last week at East Junior High.

The results left the Lakers at 3-0 and the Bullets at 2-1, with the pair scheduled to collide earlier this week with first place at stake.

Bullets, 61-38

The Bullets, an improved team over the one that dropped a season-opening 47-24 decision to the Lakers, put three players in double figures enroute to their lopsided win over the Hawks.

The Hawks, with Tim Perry and Greg McAnern leading the way, grabbed a 14-10 first period lead.

Terry Burke's eight points sparked the Bullets in the second quarter, as they inched ahead 22-20 at halftime, and the winners blew the game wide open with a 39-18 second half scoring edge.

Dean Lockwood and Tom Moon swished eight points each to key an 18-4 third stanza run by the Bullets, and then Gene Sullivan combined with Lockwood for 17 fourth quarter points to put it away.

Moon pumped in 18 points, Lockwood 16 and Sullivan 13 for the victors.

Terry Burke finished with 8 points, and single baskets were netted by Jim Fearing, Mike O'Connell and Robby Pauline.

Tim Perry led the answering fire for the Hawks, pouring through a game-high 25 points, while Mike Coelho contributed 7 and McAnern 6.

Harvey Eckoff and Tim Napolitano also played well for the Hawks.

When a waiter tells a cook to "pin a rose on it," he means add an onion.

Lakers, 43-21

Seven different players scored for the defending champs, who held Holy Cross scoreless in the first quarter and kept building the lead from there.

The Lakers were ahead 8-0, 20-7 and 37-

PeeWee A

Chelmsford 3 - Andover 2

The slump which began after the PeeWee A's recaptured the Andover Cup for Andover on Jan. 4 continued when the A's played Chelmsford on Jan. 24 at Phillips Academy and lost 3-2. The PeeWee A's have won only once and lost five times since the tournament victory.

Andover played the Chelmsford game without four key players, a circumstance which disrupted the team's normal line and defense pairings. Andover ended up rotating three centers, four wings, and five defensemen, which led to much confusion and a minimum of the smooth play the PeeWee's have displayed for most of the year.

The first period was played fairly evenly with Andover holding a slight territorial edge and scoring the only goal. David Bartle scored the goal at the eight minute mark with assists going to linemates Mosa Kaleel and Georgie Heseltine. Chelmsford managed only four shots on net in the first period, thanks in part to the excellent defensive work of Earl Abdo and Matt Shine.

Chelmsford scored twice within a 14 second span less than two minutes into the second period to take the lead. The goals came as a result of defensive lapses by Andover. Jeff McNeil, Stevie Dodnovan and Cort Pomeroy had good scoring chances stopped before Chelmsford scored its third goal of the game and the period at the six minute mark to take a 3-1 lead which was to last well into the final period.

The Andover defense, led by David Curtis and Shannon McCabe, shut down the Chelmsford offense the rest of the way but the damage had been done. Mosa Kaleel made it close (3-2) with a nice goal from the slot with 4:42 left in the game, as he worked a play with linemates David Young and Georgie Heseltine, but it was just not Andover's night. Andover played the final 1:55 without goaltender and managed to keep the puck in the zone, but generated only a few solid scoring bids. Goalies Kenny Young and Greg Najjar played well enough to win most games but a few lapses by the team in its own end cost Andover the game. The PeeWee A's season mark now stands at 21-15-7.

Squirt B

Andover 6 - Agawam 4

Andover's Squirt B's won their second Danvers League game in a row on Saturday, Jan. 24, when they defeated Agawam 6-4. Goalie Michelle DiStefano turned in one of her best games of the season in leading the B's to the victory.

After Agawam scored the first goal of the game midway through the first period, Andover scored twice to gain a lead which they never relinquished. David Sopp scored the first goal on an unassisted effort and Matty Pothier repeated it three minutes later for a 2-1 lead. DJ Camarota and Jonathan Shine turned in excellent efforts in the period, helping limit Agawam to one goal with steady work in front.

Matty Pothier scored his second unassisted goal of the game 53 seconds into the second period for a 3-1 Andover lead. Agawam scored less than a minute later to close it to 3-2, but Andover scored two more times before the period ended for a 5-2 lead. The first goal came on a beautiful length of the ice rush by Michael Tiberi and the second on a blue line shot by Gary Bleszinski. Some of the best offense of the period was provided by a line made up of Jimmy Morris, John Constantine, and Todd Roycroft, each of whom hit the post or had a hard shot stopped by the Agawam goalie.

Things got a little tight for Andover in the third period as Agawam scored twice in the first six minutes to make it 5-4. An-

Andover's offense played well enough in the period but ran into some bad luck. Danny Iandoli, who played a strong game at wing, hit the post twice and linemate Eddie Chaison, who also played very well, was pulled down from behind on a breakaway before he could get a shot off. Fine defensive work by Timmy Sullivan helped keep Agawam from scoring their fifth goal to tie it up. Andover's sixth goal came with only 11 seconds left in the game when Matty Pothier snapped in a wrist shot from the slot off a very nice setup by Michael DiStefano to complete his hat trick. The B's record is now 4-11 which places them in the middle of the pack in the Danvers League.

Wilmington League

Andover 3, Wakefield 1

Andover played a good game in Wilmington that came up short. The line of Breen, Stoltz and Bleszinski played strong throughout the game. At the 10-minute mark, they struck for their first goal. Doug Bleszinski on the left shot the puck behind Wakefield's net. Robert Stoltz picked it up and swung around to the front of the net. He hit Pat Breen in the slot. As the goalie adjusted, Pat passed it back to Robert, who shot it into the net. Play was back and forth for the next 5 minutes.

Wakefield got a break and came into Andover's end with a 3-on-2. A nice pass to the right wing and a good low shot went in on goalie Mike Murnane at the 5-minute mark. Tom Tormey and Chip Stella played well for Andover throughout the period.

With a minute left, Brent Raftery carried the puck up ice nicely and hit Glen Farnham on the left wing with a nice pass. Glen broke in alone and put a hard shot behind Wakefield's goalie. The rebound came to Wakefield's defense. The defenseman hit their center and a 3-on-1 break ensued. Wakefield scored with 26 seconds left. At the end of the first period, the score was 2 to 1 Wakefield. Goalie Mike Murnane stopped 3 good shots for the period.

The second period was a defensive struggle. Tom Tormey and Chip Stella again played defense well for Andover. Offense for both sides played even. Peter Donegan and Joey Lyons, on defense, had problems clearing the puck with a minute left in the period. Wakefield, in a scramble in front of goalie Ian Anderson, was able to score. The period ended with Wakefield ahead 3 to 1. Shots on net, at the end of 2, were 9 to 3 in favor of Wakefield.

Andover came out stronger in the third period and at the 10-minute mark the Breen-Stoltz-Bleszinski line scored. Pat Breen, on a nice pass from Robert Stoltz, put the puck by the Wakefield goalie on the left side. Momentum swung in Andover's favor and play got chippy. Wakefield committed 2 penalties but was able to kill them. On their next shift, the line of Breen, Bleszinski and Stoltz pulled off the best scoring play of the game. Doug Bleszinski fired the puck into the left corner and went after it. When he got it, he passed to Pat Breen. As the goalie adjusted, Pat hit Robert Stoltz, who lifted a fine backhand shot high in the net. This tied the score and things were looking up. The play went back and forth until the 2-minute mark. With pressure from the Rafferty-Farnham-McSweeney line, Wakefield committed a penalty. What looked like a golden opportunity turned into the losing goal. Short-handed, Wakefield backed the line of Adams, Gilmartin and McNamara into Andover's end. Peter Donegan and Joey Lyons were unable to clear the puck. Joey sent the puck up the boards and it was picked up by Wakefield's defenseman. The Wakefield defenseman fired the puck. Goalie Ian Anderson, screened by Peter, never saw the puck until it went in the net. With a minute left, Andover pulled their goalie but couldn't score. The game ended with Wakefield ahead 4 to 3. Wakefield outshot Andover 12 to 6 but committed 4 penalties to our 2. In all, it was an exciting game that we should have won.

Madison Hill — Custom Furniture & Reupholstering

Custom furniture pieces built to your specifications, expert reupholstery including rebuilding of worn pieces, antique furniture restoration — you'll find this and more at Madison Hill, 300 Canal Street, Lawrence. Artisans with combined experience of over 100 years are only a phone call away. Dial Madison Hill and tell them YOUR needs.

A fine example of Madison Hill's Custom built furniture is shown here, a loveseat and sofa being built by owner John Comasso, with extra care and attention to detail, using the finest materials and the finest craftsmanship just as his grandfather did before him.

Remember, this is not custom ordering, that you are accustomed to in many fine furniture stores. It is custom built from start to finish, from the solid maple kiln dried finished lumber, the tempered coil springs, the finest interwoven India webbing available, 8-way diamond tied with Italian flax made especially for this purpose, to the special size being built to fit under a customer's picture window. Now that's custom built!

Buying new furniture today can be risky. It may look terrific in the showroom, but the attractive exterior may be covering up a defective interior. Factory made furniture put together on the assembly line could be less durable than some of your own pieces reupholstered and rebuilt by trained craftsmen.

You can enjoy your favorite furniture pieces for a lifetime by having them reupholstered at Madison Hill. There is no limit to style, color and fabric when you reupholster. You can get exactly what you want. Madison Hill offers fabrics of every type imaginable, in various price ranges.

Madison Hill builds heirlooms for your grandchildren to inherit and enjoy, yet prices are competitive. It costs no more than ordinary good furniture to have a piece custom built or reupholstered at Madison Hill. For information or a decorator to bring fabrics to your home, call 686-7264.

Historical

around the hot abolitionist movement. Anti-slavery meetings were held in his house. Some were attended by William Lloyd Garrison, editor of the "Liberator" and Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

William Jenkins did far more than preach freedom for the slaves; he actually hid and sheltered them by making his house a station on the Underground Railroad leading to Canada. William was so strong an abolitionist that he spoke at length against slavery as a state legislator in the 1840's. In 1844 he withdrew from South Church because he considered its members too lukewarm about this moral issue. Two years later the Free Church was established in protest. The slides show exactly where in the house fugitive slaves were hidden.

From an economic point of view, William Jenkins was innovative and successful. He built a saw mill along the Skug River on his property, the foundation of which we show. The water-powered mill produced lumber for local construction and for shipbuilding. Ship's knees and other material were hauled by ox team to Ipswich and Danversport.

Even more enterprising was the development of a soapstone quarry on his premises. The blocks were sawed or cut into many shapes, usually for building construction but sometimes for gravestones. Soft when quarried, this stone became hard and durable after exposure to air.

For many years the Jenkins family even operated a large cranberry bog on his property.

The Andover Historical Society has one slide show which covers the exteriors of many old Andover houses. What distinguishes the Jenkins house show are the many slides showing the details of construction of the interior of this large house.

The William Jenkins house story reveals two aspects of life in Andover during the 19th century: unusual business initiative and a social conscience—which was to lead to the Civil War and was to reshape American history.

Sewer Extension Permit Applications

The Massachusetts Division of Water Pollution Control has received applications for permits for construction of sewer extensions or connections to the municipal systems listed below. Section 43 of Chapter 21 of the General Laws, as amended by Chapter 546 of the Acts of 1973, requires that public notice be given of every permit proceeding.

The applications are available for inspection and copying at the Division's offices at the above address. Persons desiring to comment upon or to object to the tentative determination of the Division or to request a Public Hearing thereon should submit their views in writing to the Division at the above address within 21 days of publication of this notice. All comments received within this 21-day period will be considered by the Division in formulating the final determination regarding these applications. A Public Hearing will be held only if the response to this notice indicates, in the opinion of the Director, that the public interest would be served thereby.

Following this 21-day comment period, a final determination to issue or deny the proposed permit will be made by the Director of the Division with respect to each permit application. Where the final determination remains substantially unchanged from the tentative determination indicated in this public notice, the Director will so inform the applicant, and any person who has filed written comments during this 21-day comment period, of his final determination and of the right of any party aggrieved by the final determination to request a formal adjudicatory hearing within 14 days of the final determination.

Where the final determination is substantially changed from the tentative determination in this public notice, the Director will publish a public notice of the final determination in addition to the written notice provided above. Persons other than the applicant who feel they may have a right to and may wish to request a formal adjudicatory hearing should file written comments during the 21-day public comment period in order to assure receipt of written notification of the final determination.

Within 14 days of the final permit determination, parties (as defined in sections 1, 10 and 10A of Chapter 30A of the General Laws) aggrieved by the determination may file a written request with the Director for an Adjudicatory Hearing under the provisions of Chapter 30A (the Massachusetts Administrative Procedure Act) and the Standard Adjudicatory Rules of Practice and Procedure (801 CMR 1.00). SEVEN REASONS WHY

Ownership of income-producing property can be one of the greatest ways you can put your money to work and keep more of what you earn. Here is a list of seven big pluses:

1. Employ leverage and acquire property with a minimum of cash outlay.

2. Enjoy a higher cash flow than in other investments.

3. Retain profits you earn by paying lower taxes on such income.

4. Provide a tax shelter, so that you pay less tax on other income.

5. Have ability to refinance and take out large sums, tax-free.

6. On sale date, enjoy lower capital gain rates and installment reporting of profits.

7. Limit your liability to the cash you have invested.

There are many opportunities available ranging from residential homes to condominiums to apartment complexes. And, most importantly, real estate is one of the best hedges against inflation.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Pump Station Down To Single Machine

One of the two pumps at the Riverina Road sewage pumping station is now undergoing repairs, leaving the town without a back-up pump — and leaving town officials to hope it doesn't rain soon, the town manager reported to selectmen Monday night.

Part of one pump, the impeller, was found to be "badly damaged" nearly two weeks ago, according to Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark, after Public Works employees noticed that the pump was leaking.

The pump is now being repaired, the manager said, but the impeller must be replaced; assuming that the other pump will soon need a new impeller as well, two have been ordered, at a total cost of $40,000, Clark said. The pumps are now 17 years old, and have a life expectancy of 20 years, he added.

The manager expects a delay of 10 to 20 weeks before the new parts are delivered. Until then, the pumping station will operate without a back-up pump, he said.

Ordinarily, only one pump is active at a time: The two pumps alternate, pumping an average total of four and one-half gallons during a typical day.

But when necessary, the two pumps operate simultaneously, pumping nearly three times the usual amount. Clark recalled the heavy rains and flooding of February 1978, when the pumping station was nearly flooded out.

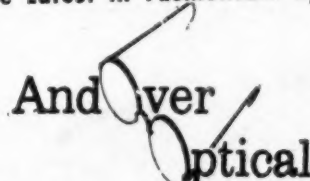

"If we had lost the pumping station then, two-thirds of the community would have had no sewerage for several weeks, including the Raytheon and Gillette plants, the center of town and residential areas," he indicated.

"We hope it only rains in North Andover," the manager joked. He added, however, that the town has "emergency means to back up the pumping station, so that we won't get sewers backed up or flooded basements."

The manager's budget for fiscal year 1982, submitted to the selectmen last week, includes a $45,000 special article for purchasing a new pump for the station, which Clark wanted to have on hand for emergencies. But "Lady Luck beat us to the punch," he observed.

were earlier, delaying the start of their study.

The selectmen had hoped to award the license on Feb. 23, after studying the consultant's report.

In a December report to the board, the Andover Cable Television Advisory Committee recommended that the selectmen award the 15-year franchise to Rollins, an Atlanta-based company.

However, the selectmen voted to retain a consultant to study the competing proposals after Continental Cablevision of Lawrence challenged the financial aspects of Rollins' proposal.

Malarkey Taylor will study the complete proposals of each company, and should submit a report to the town within two weeks of the time they begin the study, Clark said.
